

Matthew Salminen

Keetac has the lowest discharge level of sulfates already. Why set a limit at 10ppm for discharge water when drinking water is 250ppm? Ridiculous! At least there will be plenty of wild rice to eat when workers are unemployed. Use some common sense!