

Quintin Rosin

I am a Member of the Federally Recognized Tribe Bad River. Manoomin(wild rice) as we call it, has always been a sacred food. It's the food that grows on the water. Every known living being on this planet. NEEDS food and water. It only makes sense to protect the food that grows within our waters