

Linda Koskiniemi

Please allow the variance for Keetac sulfate discharge into tailing pond until updated research can determine what an acceptable limit of sulfate is. There are other variables such as amount of predation by birds and level of water in the rice beds that my husband, who riced for many years, observed affecting the rice yields. The 10ppm is from very old research. There needs to be a balance between wild ricing and supporting our economy.