

Trevor Russell

We each have an obligation to leave to future generations a world better than we found it. In my view, choosing to leave ANY portion of the Area C waste in place is a failure of that obligation.

While costly, a full and complete cleanup is the only responsible choice. We all know the right thing to do here - its time for the state to act.