

Gail Irish

The study focuses on potential harm to people, but is there a study that includes the effect of toxic waste on other life forms in and around Area C? I participate in a water ceremony every Sunday morning at Hidden Falls and I care deeply about the health of the river and the non-human life it supports.