

Tate Pashibin

I believe corporations should be held accountable for cleaning up and working to restore natural resources after they have polluted them. This is especially imperative for the Ford Area C site, which is in such close proximity to the Mississippi River.