

Lisa Bergerud

What's in Ford Area C could affect many people (not to mention wildlife): site neighbors, visitors to the nearby popular regional parks, river lovers, anglers and everyone who uses the river or its water downstream. The public needs ample opportunity to be informed about any threat and involved in its remediation.