

James Vlazny

I believe option 6 should be pursued.

We cannot leave this mess for future generations. Leaving any of this toxic waste in area C will make it harder and trickier to remove in the future.

The City of St. Paul and the Corp of Engineers should pay their share of what the dumped in area C, and be responsible for the removal cost of their portion.

Action to clean up this site, in it's entirety, must be done immediately and with extreme caution and skill.