

Corey Schmitz

It's frustrating how difficult it is to even find what the remediation alternatives are. My family and I live in St. Paul and use this area often. I am very confused why the default option would not be for Ford to fully remediate the area. They polluted it, they profited, they should clean it up.