

Rachel Ricchio

We at Green Group Consulting agree with the review and recommendations provided by the advisory council. We think it would be worthwhile to review how different implementations of The Opportunity to Recycle law and its funding structures affect recycling participation and perception.