

David Soehren

Any project of this magnitude should be required to provide a full Environmental Impact Statement rather than just an EAW. The potential problems of water usage, Manure management, and potential spills can then be properly assessed.