

Anthony Vannelli

I am writing in support of the West River Dairy expansion. They are on the modern edge of technology in their industry and provide well-paying skilled jobs. The idea that they are willing to re-invest into the state of Minnesota is a positive rather than the alternative of exiting, which would just be another negative impact on our local economies.

Regards