A dairy farm of this size is not a farm, it's an industrial facility. The water use and the pollution potential is outrageous. The treatment of 18,000 animals in a production facility is inhumane. This is not farming!

We need to support sustainable and healthy agriculture and actual farms, not industrial facilities.

I am concerned both about the potential pollution that this facility could cause to our ground water as well as the precedent. It could set for other facilities in our state. Our ground water is too precious to risk it!
