

Tanner Davison

Riverview dairy should be granted the permit for expansion. As a farmer that has worked with them on other dairies they have always done what they said, and make things fair and right when circumstances change. As the Mayor of Wendell they have been very generous with the community, supporting multiple fundraising events for city improvements and were a main reason our fire department was able to cover the costs of expensive upgrades with our fire turnout gear. They have been a great and welcomed addition to our area.

As far as running a dairy, I challenge you to find one that is better run. They as always clean and pleasant looking, there is very rarely an odor. The only smell is usually for a few days when they are doing field manure application, and that is a welcomed event by any and all farmers that are able to receive the application.

I have had many interactions with many of their employees on all levels of their operations, and they are all good people. They work hard and love what they do. It is amazing to have a business that is able and willing to grow in our small communities. We should welcome it and help facilitate it. This is why I support their expansion efforts, Thank You!