

Helene Murray

A dairy of this size has the potential to have severe, adverse environmental impacts. An EIS is needed to determine to what extent this facility will have on the environment and area.