

Jerry Lindor

i do not think one farm should have thst many animal units on one site. A dairy farm this size would keep any young farmers from ever getting a chance to farm . They buy any land that comes up for sale and they increase the rent in the land they do not own . This country was built on small family farms .The communities suffer when u have these mega farms . The churches will close the schools will close because they control all the land and they chase everyone away . If we have to have these big dairy farms let's at least spread them around do they don't completely dominate the community. Thsnk you Jerry Lindor