

Cassandra Carskadon

Already water is a precious resource. We already have corporations trying to take this precious resource for various enterprizes. There is no need for this expansion. Especially when you're not done doing all the research about ground water in the area.