

Tyler Bueng

I personally live 15 miles away from the Waukon Dairy that Riverview operates in Norman County. Myself and my family have all toured their facility. I also have professionally been out there to work on repairs through my employer. So I've had a large sample size of how Riverview operates during their daily operations! I can say confidently they have the cleanest and most efficient operating dairy around. Not only do they set the standard for an outstanding dairy operation, I'd honestly say they are the standard! I also would like to mention how well they support the local communities that surround their operations. They make a positive impact from top to bottom within their organization. Riverview is helping keep creamery's in Minnesota full and operational, they create job opportunities, give local farmers another market to sell their commodities to, tax revenue for counties and townships, bringing families to these small communities that boost population and put more kids in our schools, and support local businesses with buying supplies and materials locally. The list goes on and on! I also think if there was an negative environmental impact Riverview would go above and beyond to try and fix the situation and improve going forward. Let them expand and continue being a positive impact on the dairy industry!