I am deeply concerned to learn that MPCA is even considering granting a permit to Riverview Dairy for their planned expansion without an EIS. A dairy of this proposed scale does not yet exist in Minnesota, much less nested amongst so many protected wildlife areas and near such a vital watershed. Given Riverview's recent history of manure spills in Minnesota, along with the damage they've caused in other municipalities with over-pumping and water table depletion, it behooves the MPCA to require a full environmental review of any proposed expansion that INCLUDES the existing dairy in the equation (not just the expansion). Please consider the health of the land, the flora and fauna, and the PEOPLE who live in this area - myself and my children included. Thank you for your time.
