

Trenton Nelson

I am submitting this comment to urge the rejection of the proposed livestock facility expansion. A facility of this size creates an unmanageable amount of waste that threatens Minnesota's groundwater and local ecosystems. Beyond the environmental impact, I am concerned about the welfare of the animals involved and the degradation of the surrounding wild animal habitats. We should be moving toward more sustainable and ethical agricultural practices, not doubling down on industrial factory farming.