

Laura Haule

My concern is the enormous size of this project, which would seem to increase the impact on a variety of environmental factors. I think a full environmental review is warranted to evaluate the potential air and water pollution, soil and groundwater runoff, energy use, even noise pollution. I am concerned about animal welfare in a project of this magnitude.