

Rebecca Heinz

As a dairy farmer in Minnesota and a farmer advocate please stop Riverview and affiliates from further expansion. The expansion is creating a monopoly in the dairy industry pushing many family farms out of business due to the high volume of milk they flood the market with. Competition in the industry is good but not at the rate at which Riverview is accelerating. Riverview is not considering the impact they have on Minnesota's dairy industry and they are not helping local economies by what they are doing. As a small farm family we buy local, sell local, hire local, and support local. Riverview fills all of their needs "in house" and finds the cheapest suppliers not necessarily supporting local communities or even Minnesota. Please stop Riverview from further expansion in Minnesota or there will be a monopoly and more unforeseen consequences to Minnesota's dairy industry. Thank you for your consideration.