

Ashley Nietfeld

Allowing this expansion is immoral. They are damaging the dairy industry everyday. There is already too much milk on the market and they just keep growing and for what? They don't care for the livestock they're all just managers with who knows what agenda. Nothing positive comes from them continuously expanding. Rumor has it that instead of paying investors they just keep growing, like a giant ponzi scheme. Allowing them to continue is unreasonable.