I am writing this in support of Riverview Dairy and the expansion. I grew up in the area and still go out there quite often. Riverview takes great care in their operations. My dad's farm is approximately 3 miles from the expansion site. When we go out there we never smell the barns. They also take great care of their workers. The city of Morris has had a lot of new housing that the company has built. Riverview also does a lot of giving back to the community which many times is unnoticed. I have only heard great things about Riverview.
