

Robert Lee

I work with a Riverview dairy, I sell the silage and purchase manure from them. They are a good neighbor and have had a positive impact on my farming operation. Having diverse end users for our crop is important for stability of the corn market. I am in favor of the expansion.