

Mary Longfellow

Do the right thing for your future self and your prodigy. We shouldn't need to convince you this is simply bad form and isn't needed. The pressure on you and us by corporate entities has to stop. It's destructive and inhumane. Do the right thing instead. It will build your character and you'll thank yourself later.