

Jennifer Hill

I don't understand how this could move forward without an EAW to inform decision makers on impacts to neighbors, the community at large, and the local watershed (possibly even beyond). Environmental externalities can no longer be ignored while while corporations extract wealth from our communities.