

Kelli Olson

Living not far from this dairy (within 30 min) I have already seen first hand how this large operation has taken over so much farmland as small families can't even compete with what they pay for land and don't feel this would help change that. I think this would be a big mistake!