

Dustin Hollermann

The proposed West River Dairy Expansion will be a net positive in regards to environmental effects. Air quality, water resources, manure management, and rare species concerns have all been thoroughly evaluated and are adequately addressed through the EAW and ongoing regulatory oversight. An EIS is not necessary and would not result in the discovery of any additional concerns.