

Kaleb Pugsley

It is clear in the EAW, that the project uses modern systems and standard environmental safeguards. Larger operations manage manure and water more effectively because they can invest in better infrastructure. This expansion benefits local communities, agriculture sustainability and consumers need for more dairy. Based on the information provided, I support continuing through the regular permitting process.