

Cathy Solvie

Hello, I think you need to have several more of these conversations with the affected community before an MASSIVE expansion and drain on our water happens. It can't always be about the money. You all have more than enough to get you and generations of your families taken care of. This is all unnecessary. Think about the environment and the people you reside around first please.