

NutraDrip (Kurt Grimm)

Riverview continues to be a champion of workplace safety, environmental stewardship, efficiency and an economic development workhorse. Our company offers solutions that allow dairies to apply manure in a way that is more environmentally friendly. Many dairies cannot or will not invest in this technology. Riverview on the other hand is leading the way in using and implementing this system. Their attention to detail at every level is unprecedented. We work with dairies from CA to NY and I always know when I step on a Riverview site it will be clean, well maintained, and operated at the highest level of professionalism. I can personally attest to their commitment to operate dairies in way that will benefit their neighbors, community and state. And their manure management application is always done in a way that responsibly stewards the environment. I give my support to Riverview expanding their site at West River. And I would welcome the opportunity to share my personal experience with Riverview and how they handle manure and water.
