

Sean Indrelie

The dairy industry couldn't even survive without generous support from taxpayers, and this is how they repay us? Polluting our air and water? Rural Minnesota smells like feces because of farms like this. Bring back the sea of grass, save the soil and the pollinators. We're headed for global famine by the end of the century if we keep allowing industries like this to trash our only planet.