

John Marks

The West River Dairy Expansion proposal must have a full Environmental Impact Assessment. The way of life which the citizens of Minnesota value is based on clean water and clean air.

Concentrating so many dairy cows in one place will result in environmental damage. This high cost is not worth the end result- a high volume of low-quality milk.