

Jan Kaeter

I oppose any operation of this size with the volume of water used and the affects it would have on the local aquafers to the amount of waste produced not to mention the methane gas released. This operation is not a farm it is an industrial plant not unlike an oil refinery and should have a rigorous environmental impact study before any permit is even considered.