

Robert Schultz

A development of this magnitude with the capability to pollute our already fragile water system in this state must at least require an Environmental Impact Statement (EIS).