

Brad Visser

As a contractor who has worked with Riverview I have not seen a company more dedicated to the environment than they are. I would strongly encourage permitting to allow for the betterment of rural minnesota. As they are strong members of the community and also a very positive impact to the local and state economy I believe permitting should be granted. Rural minnesota is in economic distress and having such great stewards of the land only makes sense. Thank you for your time.