

Thomas Borgen

I have been on site at multiple Riverview dairies and can't believe how clean and functional these sites are. I believe they are a value to the community and to the economy to the surrounding areas. Milk and cheese are part of the daily routine of many people and we need to keep the commodity healthy and strong for our own economy.