

Devin Hammer

My name is Devin, and I have worked for Summerville Electric for 16 years and have collaborated with Riverview on three previous new projects, in addition to providing ongoing service work at their sites. From what I have observed, the existing facility is clean and well maintained. Operations appear organized and professionally managed. That matters to those of who live nearby.

I understand the project is undergoing environmental review by the state. I appreciate that these projects are subject to oversight and permitting before moving forward. In my experience, Riverview has operated responsibly in the community.

Furthermore, the dairy provides significant support to local farmers, employment, and businesses.

These partnerships are vital to the economic health of our rural area.

For these reasons, I support the expansion.

Sincerely,

Devin
