My name is John Riley, and I am the owner of John Riley Construction, a construction contractor that works alongside agricultural operations throughout Minnesota, including Riverview. I am writing to express my strong support for the proposed West River Dairy expansion in Stevens County.

Operations like Riverview play a key role in sustaining rural economies by creating jobs, encouraging local investment, and supporting the growth of businesses like ours that provide essential services to the agricultural sector. The planned expansion will deliver clear economic advantages to the area. It will increase opportunities for local suppliers and help strengthen the overall economic stability of communities that rely heavily on agriculture.

In our experience working with Riverview, they have consistently operated with professionalism and integrity. They are a trusted partner whose presence benefits not only agricultural producers but also a wide range of local businesses and service providers.

For these reasons, I strongly urge you to approve this project. Continued investment in agriculture is critical to preserving the strength and sustainability of rural Minnesota. Supporting this expansion will help ensure that local communities remain vibrant, economically stable, and well-positioned for the future.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
