

Prairie Pest Control (Brett Sletta)

My name is Brett Sletta, and I am an employee with Prairie Pest Control, where we provide pest management services for agricultural operations across Minnesota, including Riverview Dairy locations.

I wanted to express my support for Riverview's proposed West River Dairy expansion in Stevens County.

As someone who regularly works inside agricultural facilities, I've had the opportunity to see firsthand how Riverview operates on a day-to-day basis. Their locations are consistently clean, organized, and professionally maintained. In our line of work, those things matter, and it's clear that Riverview places a strong emphasis on sanitation, upkeep, and maintaining high standards throughout their operation.

Beyond that, businesses like Riverview play a major role in supporting rural communities and local economies. Expansions like this create opportunities not only for agriculture, but also for many local businesses and service providers that work alongside the industry every day. Projects like this help support jobs, increase economic activity, and provide long-term stability for communities throughout the area.

From our experience working with Riverview, they have always been professional and easy to work with, and they continue to make a positive impact on the agricultural industry and the surrounding communities they operate in.

Agriculture is a critical part of Minnesota's economy, and continued investment in modern, well-managed operations is important for the future of rural communities. I believe the environmental review process already in place is comprehensive and appropriate, and I do not believe an Environmental Impact Statement is necessary for this project.

I respectfully encourage support and approval of the proposed West River Dairy expansion.

Sincerely,

Brett Sletta
