

Lyn Kerschen

Concerning the West river Dairy Expansion, an environmental impact study needs to be done. Morris is located along the watershed that channels many streams and lakes into the Pomme de Terre River. Many of these waterways are categorized as impaired by the Minnesota Pollution Control Agency because they failed to meet water quality standards.

Riverview's expansion would more than double its liquid manure storage capacity in Morris, from 102 million gallons to 250 million gallons. This expansion needs further review.