

Hilary Reeves

The scale of this expansion calls for an Environmental Impact Statement. The increasing severity of weather events & the already high levels of nitrogen in water already are worrying enough, for families and the health of our communities.

An EIS will allow the proposal's negative impacts on water quality and quantity, local roads, and existing independent family dairy farms to be fully analyzed before the project is allowed to seek a permit.

Thank you.