

Adam Yucuis

I'm of the opinion that Riverview must be required to undergo a full Environmental Impact Statement for their proposed West River Dairy Expansion. That potential number of cows all located in one concentrated area would produce a very large amount of manure and would require vast amounts of water, posing a large risk to the local groundwater resources. We need to know of the potential environmental impacts of the proposed expansion before it can move forward.