

Kristin McNeill

We live a couple of miles from the West Riverview location and have lived here most of my life. What about our water? We've already seen a noticeable decline in water quality. When our well needs to be dug deeper - or even relocated - because they have pulled the level so far down, will they be footing that bill? Will there be any concern for the neighbors?