

Steve Veverka

I am writing this communication to express my full support for the expansion of the Riverview West River dairy expansion. Modern agriculture is complicated. No ag business in Minnesota navigates that complicated system better than Riverview . The fact that they incorporate a diverse, highly paid work force and are excellent stewards of the environments is really one of the great agricultural success stories in Minnesota . The current review process is completely adequate and an EIS is not necessary.