

David Hauge

Groundwater contamination issues should be forefront of such expansion. That much manure in one location, creates potential problems overtime. Is a digester plan involved. Maybe the greatest issue will be the affect on smaller dairies. A farm of this magnitude will get all the business breaks smaller dairies will be unable to compete with