

Kristine Hamm

This feedlot proposal is too large. I have no faith any corporate farm will abide by current regulations nor will they care for the animals. This type of gigantic farm is bad for family farms and our environment. Our history of family farms is too important to ignore and allow big business have their way.