Roper should be allowed to open his business. The other batch plant in Ruidoso has over 100 houses within a quarter mile not to mention the hospital and dozens of businesses and there haven't been any issues. Property values haven't dropped and they aren't going to. People will always want to live in Ruidoso. There are 3 houses within a quarter mile of Roper's location. Three. Nobody said a word when nearly two dozen new recreational marijuana businesses opened despite the documented issues that come along with those kinds of businesses. This is still the United States and we should have the freedom to open a new business that the community needs. Let the free market work it out not the wealthy whiners that aren't even personally impacted in any way.
