

Anonymous Anonymous

It seems this plan is being pushed by corporate investments rather than logic and reality. It's not sensible without an energy plan in place and New Mexico isn't ready for such a drastic transition.